WEEK 4 · LESSON 23 OF 24 · HANDOUT

Your 90-Day AI Career Plan

Study time: about 40 minutes (reading, video and activity)

Your goal in this lesson: Create a realistic 90-day plan to keep growing your AI skills, apply them, and move toward a specific career goal.

Why a plan matters

Courses end; habits continue. Without a plan, most learners stop practising within two weeks. A simple 90-day plan keeps you moving and gives you results to show.

Step 1 — Set one clear goal

Make it specific and measurable. Examples:

- "Use AI to cut my weekly admin time by 3 hours and show the results to my manager."
- "Apply for 10 internships in digital marketing with a portfolio showing AI-assisted campaigns."
- "Start offering AI-assisted CV-writing support to students, with 5 paying clients."
- "Complete the next course in the WAMUGII AI Program (AI Foundations)."

Step 2 — Plan in three 30-day phases

| Phase | Focus | Example actions |
|---|---|---|
| Days 1–30: Practise | Daily habit | Use AI for one real task every working day; add 10 prompts to your library |
| Days 31–60: Apply | Bigger projects | Complete 2 real projects (like your Week 3 automation); get feedback |
| Days 61–90: Show | Visibility | Update portfolio, CV and LinkedIn; share results; apply or pitch |

Step 3 — Build the weekly routine

- 15 minutes a day: use AI on a real task and note what worked.
- 1 hour a week: learn one new technique or tool (a video, an article, or the next WAMUGII lesson).
- Every Friday: write 3 lines — what I did, what I learned, what I will try next.

Step 4 — Find support

- A study buddy or colleague to share prompts and check each other's progress.
- A community: tech meet-ups, university clubs, online groups in your field.
- A mentor: someone a few steps ahead who can review your portfolio.

Step 5 — Track and adjust

Check your plan every 30 days: What did I achieve? What blocked me? What will I change? A plan is a guide, not a prison.

Remember this: One clear goal, three 30-day phases, a small daily habit and regular check-ins turn this course into lasting career progress.
